NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—If you want a conducted tour of the city, contact Mayor Bill Slothower.

The mayor started the group touring the town with Harry Darling yesterday with an amazing out-of-pocket knowledge of Dixon's history and stories of its landmarks.

But, according to his honor, he came by such knowledge quite naturally.

"I should know this town," he said. "I guess I've worked on just about every building in the city during the past 50 years."

The mayor, in case you didn't know, is a tinsmith and a contractor.

One of the amusing things that popped up on the "Darling Day" festivities yesterday occurred at Meigs airport in Chicago. The local delegation arrived there to find Harry Darling waiting. Clutched in his hand was a copy of a Chicago newspaper with a picture of some plane wreckage displayed prominently on Page One.

The delegation swore that he occasionally glanced at the picture while en route to Dixon. Darling later quipped: "I was thinking of that all the time, believe me."

The "Darling Day" episode brought Dixon and the Lions club a host of publicity. The Associated Press sent it state-wide and Chicago newspapers and radio stations carried stories and pictures. The Lions delegation and Darling were photographed as they left the Chicago airport.

Of course the story was, as it is known in the trade, "a natural." It was a heart-warming tale and one that digs deep in the hearts of all—an old man wanting to revisit, just once more, the scene of his boyhood.

There was a touch of sadness behind yesterday's welcome for Darling. His wife died several weeks ago, shortly after the Lions club first contacted him for the trip to Dixon. It was to have been that his wife would accompany him had her health not failed. The retired railroad man was settling down to a comfortable retirement period when death struck. He mentioned the fact tearfully at the luncheon yesterday and a hush fell over the crowd.

Yesterday's warmhearted welcome for Mr. Darling provides a lesson for all of us. There are many among us, who, in their twilight years, need to be shown the same tender consideration.

Mr. Darling expressed it yesterday when he said, "You'll never know how much this means to me."

MAYOR WILLIAM SLOTHOWER presents Harry Darling, 76-year-old Chicagoan, a "key to the city" yesterday at the Lions club luncheon paying tribute to Darling, a former Dixonite, who expressed a wish to relive his boyhood days after being away from Dixon for 60 years. The Lions club was host to Darling whose nostalgic letter to The Evening Telegraph captured their attention. (See Page 9 for more pictures of Darling's visit here).

Darling Relives Days of Boyhood

It's 'Hometown Revisited' For Sentimental Gentleman

Harry B. Darling, 76-year-old Chicagoan, came to the scenes of his early boyhood in Dixon yesterday and it was a touching, sentimental journey.

Darling was the guest of the Dixon Lions club at a luncheon and spent the remainder of the afternoon touring the town he hasn't visited in more than 60 years.

It was all the result of a letter written to the Evening Telegraph in which he expressed a wish to visit the scenes of his boyhood. "I would like to walk down the main street and note the changes that have taken place in the years I have been away," he wrote.

The Lions club members took care of that. They promptly made Tuesday "Darling Day" and flew him here for a luncheon, a tops-down convertible tour of the city, a visit to the Sid Buckaloo farm west of Dixon, the site of the old Rock River Stock Farm of which his father was superintendent, and a Rock River boat ride.

Mayor William Slothower presented the city's guest a symbolic key to the city.

The visit reached a sentimental peak at the luncheon where the 76-year-old retired railroad conductor broke down and wept.

He managed to say, "I never, never can thank you enough for all of this."

Lions members Walter Knack, President Paul Johns, Mayor Slothower and Norman Wallin accompanied the former Dixon resident on the tour of the city, parks and industries.

His tour, made in Knack's decorated convertible, gained wide attention from those who had read of his coming. The entourage got friendly waves from local residents.

Several on the streets waved and shouted, "Hiya, Darling!" The alert, friendly Chicagoan smiled and returned the waves.

Darling was flown here from Meigs airport in Chicago by Bob Hall, of the Hamilton air field, Peoria. It was the first time the 76-year-old former Dixonite had flown.

Hall, the pilot, remarked, "He made the trip all right. No, he wasn't frightened a bit."

Accompanying him on the flight was Paul Johns, the Lions club president, and Norm Wallin, a member. A low ceiling made it necessary to fly at about 1,500 feet. Hall said, and it gave Darling an excellent opportunity to view Chicago.

Darling is accustomed to seeing his home city from the ground. He has served the Illinois Central railroad as a companioned the former Dixon resident

Dixon Area Planning Groups Hire Chicago Firm for Study

Hire Kincaid Firm to Chart Area Growth

City, Township, Park Board Join In Hiring Experts

The Chicago firm of Everett Kincaid, professional city planners, was hired Tuesday night to compile a master plan for the Dixon area at a meeting in the township building of area planners and government officials.

A unanimous vote of attending members of the city and township planning commissions, the park board, and the city council gave the job to the Chicago firm.

The decision to hire the planning firm came late last night after hours of discussion.

Will Sign Soon

A contract will be signed within the next few days on the area's agreement to use Kincaid's services on a fee-plus-cost basis, with an outside expense limit of $12,000.

To wrap up the deal, the contract will be signed by officials of Dixon area taxing bodies who agreed to put up the money for the program, namely the city of Dixon, the park commission, and the township.

A review of the funds available to meet costs shows that the area actually has an anticipated $9,500 at its disposal during the next two years.

The city council appropriated $2,500 this year and will appropriate that much next year. The township will provide a total of $4,000 over a two-year period and the park board will add another $500 during the next two years.

A fee-plus-cost basis stipulates that periodic payments will be made to the planning firm as work progresses during the agreed-upon 18 months duration of the program. It is hoped that the method will reduce the expense of the master plan below the maximum cost of $12,000.

Workable Plan

Kincaid explained that he will be able to provide a valuable and workable plan for the area's future under those provisions.

He said the firm comes into an area strictly in an advisory capacity, working with the planning commissions and governmental bodies.

It is their policy to see that the master plan is the area's plan and not the firm's.

The professional planners give suggestions and comment on the conditions found within the city and what can be done to remedy them after extensive study and surveys, Kincaid said.

Public meetings will be scheduled to explain what is being planned and to study public reaction. In criticizing an area, professional planners are impartial and "pull no punches," looking toward the best possible plan for the coming years, he added.

At the end of plan-making operations, a narrative report is published for the benefit of everyone interested. The area planning commission then recommends that the plan be adopted by a resolution of the city council.

Upon adoption, a new zoning ordinance can be compiled and opened to public hearing. The council then can pass the ordinance.

Will Be Flexible

Kincaid added that the plan will be flexible, allowing for needed and desired changes as time passes.

Cargo Is Taken

HONG KONG—(AP)—The British freighter Admiral Hardy, which radioed July 29 that she had been boarded by pirates off the Red China coast, today messaged that she was released last Monday but said "our cargo was confiscated."

EVERETT KINCAID (foreground), head of the Chicago firm of professional city planners, discusses planning techniques at a meeting of Dixon area citizens in the township building Tuesday night. Members of the Dixon city and township planning commissions, the park board, and the city council voted unanimously last night to hire the Kincaid firm to outline the area's future development. Work on the project of compiling a master plan to guide Dixon and vicinity taxing bodies. (Kincaid above) Seated (left to right) are Edwin Merrick, chairman of the city planning commission; Dixon's Mayor Slothower and John McDaniel, park commission chairman. Second row (left to right) are Art Handell, Dixon township assessor; A. C. Highy, township supervisor; L. J. Welch, city commissioner; Cal Tyler, park board; and Esther Barton, park board. Back row (left to right) are C. A. Mellott, Edgar Dotis, and Paul Fry, all on the township planning commission; Victor Elchler, city planning commission, and C. L. Ballard, city commissioner.

Veteran of Death Trips Set Free by Reds in Korea

Survivor of Bataan March Tells of Red-Led Journey

FREEDOM VILLAGE (AP)—An American who survived the terrible Bataan death march in the Philippines in World War II and in agonizing mid-winter death march as a prisoner of the Communists in Korea came back to liberty today.

He is Cpl. John L. Dixon, 32, of San Jose, Calif.

As a Red captive, Dixon was forced to march with 50 others from Seoul to the Yalu River boundary of Manchuria—about 200 miles. He was captured Dec. 31, 1950.

March For Month

"We marched for more than a month to reach a prison camp at the Yalu," Dixon said. "Some men died. North Koreans who guarded us on the march threatened to kill any one who dropped out of the line of march, so we helped or carried our buddies who had frost bitten feet or who otherwise were unable to walk."

"I remember how one of my buddies died. He fell on the ice while we were crossing a frozen river. A guard began punching him with a rifle, ordering him to get up. I came up and felt his pulse. He was dead."

"They fed us cracked corn and millet. We were half starved and half frozen the whole trip. Many of the night we spent in open cowsheds with temperatures far below freezing. I would spend a lot of every night jumping up and down to keep my feet and hands from freezing. Lice were eating us up."

Able to Survive

"But I got through that one just like I got through the Bataan death march. Looking back on both experiences, I think the Bataan march was worse."

here but I wasn't starved all the time. When I was a prisoner of the Japs, I was always hungry."

Dixon said he was forced to attend many lectures on communism and had signed a letter to President Eisenhower recently after he had been asked by his captors:

Value Your Life

"Do you value your life?"

"When they ask you that it makes you stop and think," he said. "If you cooperate with them a little, you get good treatment—"

Freed POWs Have High TB Rate Says Doctor

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—The head of the hospital at Freedom Village reported today doctors found a high percentage of tuberculosis and other lung diseases among returned U. N. prisoners of war and said, "I am not sure they will all recover."

But Col. Fred W. Seymour stressed that in the past "we have pulled some of them right out of the grave."

Seymour said over 30 men had "active pulmonary lesions" of the first 60 U. S. and other U. N. repatriates who entered the evacuation hospital today.

Americans Sick

Seymour gave no breakdown on nationalities, but said the bulk was Americans.

Seymour told newsmen "the first group we received was at least as sick as any in Operation Little Switch," the exchange of disabled captives three months ago.

He said the "vast majority" of the men received at his hospital today will be flown to Tokyo instead of taking the boat trip home from Incheon.

said. "Had I been the one to decide, they would have been eligible for repatriation last April."

Malnutrition

Seymour said some of the released POWs had definite malnutrition, but "it is difficult to say whether it was the result of their illness."

The colonel said it seemed the Communists "for the last few months have been feeding them, the prisoners, much better. We would have expected malnutrition, but those today not sick were not badly nourished."

"This might explain their better attitude," he said.

Prisoners Returned Total 400

70 Americans Are Released; More to Return Tonight

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Four hundred happy Allied war captives rode Russian trucks down the dirt road from North Korea to freedom today.

The massive, five-week Korean War prisoner exchange was on—12,763 U. N. troops, including 3,313 Americans, for 71,000 Reds.

The Communists said 392 more prisoners, including 70 Americans, will be liberated Thursday (7 p.m. CDT, Wednesday).

Seventy Americans came out of the bleak Communist prison camps in the first day's exchange, many with laughs and shouts, all with heartfelt thanksgiving to be home—ward bound.

Finally Ended

For them and 330 other former Allied captives the Korean War had finally ended, nine days after firing stopped at the front on July 27.

However, the first American officer released, Maj. John Daujat of Richmond, Calif., told newsmen the Reds had sentenced some U.S. officer captives to long prison terms only two days ago for "inciting against peace."

That was seven days after the armistice.

Decline Comment

In Washington, Pentagon and State Department spokesmen declined to comment.

The 100 Allied troops released included 250 South Koreans, 26 British, 23 Turks, 12 Filipinos, 7 Colombians, 7 French and 1 each from Greece, Australia, Canada, Belgium and South Africa besides the 70 Americans.

The Allies sent back 2,760 Chinese and North Koreans.

70 Americans

Seventy more Americans—12 of them sick and wounded—will be included with 250 Koreans and 72 other Allied personnel in the second day's exchange.

The Reds who went north in the first day's exchange erupted at the last minute in defiance of the Allies. Many tipped and turned their new American-provided uniforms, snarled and cursed American officers and flashed anger. The display obviously was aimed at propaganda for the Red newsmen and photographers who stood nearby.

In contrast, the Allied troops showed what they shouted—"Glad to be here!"

Sick and Wounded

About half of the 70 Americans were sick and wounded.

The American prisoners were sent to Freedom Village, 12 miles south of Panmunjom, for showers, food, quick medical treatment and the first processing for their trip home.

The British were taken to Camp Britannia and the South Koreans to Camp Liberty, both near Freedom Village.

To Japan

The Americans will be taken from Freedom Village to Incheon, a port on Korea's west coast, where they will board transports for home after a few days of final processing. Allied POWs, other than South Koreans, will be sent to Japan for processing before starting homeward.

Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, highest ranking American in Red hands was not among those delivered in the first group. He was captured in July 1950 while leading his U. S. 24th Division in action near Taejeon.

Franklin Grove Fair Planned Aug. 27-29

By MAXINE HULLAH
Franklin Grove Correspondent
FRANKLIN GROVE—The 1953 Franklin Grove Community fair—bigger and better than ever—will be held Aug. 27, 28 and 29.

For many years this community has sponsored a fall festival, always free to the public. Displays of garden vegetables, grain, canned foods, fancy work, flowers and home arts attracted visitors from a wide area.

Each year the Festival got bigger and better. The future farmers began showing their livestock; the home economics girls brought their baked goods and sewing; the 4-H groups displayed their many projects. Every available space on Main street was used for display, and prizes were donated by the merchants.

Five rides and 20 concessions from out of town will be included, plus the local stands.
Opening night, Thursday, Aug. 27, features a parade at 7 p.m., followed by band concerts. The gates open at 11 a.m. Friday, Aug. 28, for a tractor rodeo. Saturday, Aug. 29, is the day for horsemen. Gates open at 11 a.m. for the horse show.

Fair Committee
The fair board committee includes: Ben Smith, president; Milton Burke, vice president; LaVerne Baker, secretary; Earl Fish, treasurer; Milford Cluse, Don Bennett, Earl Meurer, Walter Spratt, Charles Johnson, directors.
Department Heads
Superintendents of departments are as follows:
C. A. Blocher, beef cattle; Ralph Dewey, dairy cattle; Donald Ramsdell, sheep; Milford Cluse and George Hall, swine; Henry Helmerhausen, poultry; Delbert Saunders, rabbits; Lloyd Group, agricultural products; Myrtle Matern, horticulture; Myrtle Butler, floriculture; Kathryn Herbst, domestic arts; Faith Cravens, education and natural history; Verda Blocher, culinary; Mrs. Engelbrecht, junior department (other than livestock); Walter Spratt, light horses; Ben Smith and Don Bennett, concessions.

Program Listed for Ogle 4-H Fair August 11 and 12

By EVERETT SMILEY
Assistant Youth Adviser
OREGON—I was on a club tour, Pleasant Hill Hotshots 4-H Club, up near Forreston last Saturday which is led by Robert Trei and Lloyd Link. The tour was very well organized and interesting. The club had four classes of livestock to be judged by the 4-H members and a baby beef weight guessing contest. I noticed that this club had little difficulty in getting parent cooperation.

Tom Koning's residence which is about 8 miles northeast of Forreston has a small pond which was intended for fire protection, almost on his front porch step. He and his family have converted it and the surrounding area more into a family recreational grounds rather than thinking of it as a fire safety measure. Families such as this one who enjoy some of their leisure hours right at home are getting many more dollars' worth of enjoyment than they could if they bought it elsewhere. Encouragement should be given other families to develop such sites on their homesteads.

Perhaps, county wide, the 4-H Fair is the biggest event coming up in August. The show starts on August 11 and ends the next day. As might be expected, this fair is open to only regularly enrolled 4-H members in this county. Each 4-H member can show only one entry in each class except baby beef. He is allowed to show all three breeds, but not two animals in any one breed.

All the 4-H members who are planning to show their animals are contacting the veterinarians throughout the county to test their animals for T.B. and Bangs if they are cattle, and have vaccinated their hogs for cholera, etc.

Listed below is the schedule for the coming 4-H Fair on August 11 and 12:

Aug. 11 (all times CDT)—8 a.m. late registration, 9:30 a.m. fat-stock judging contest, 11 a.m. judging of beef, 3 p.m. judging of sheep and judging of horses, 6 p.m. 4-H club talent show with talent provided by the local clubs.

Aug. 12—8:30 a.m. dairy judging contest, 9:30 a.m. judging of swine and judging of dairy, 10 a.m. judging of poultry, rabbits, garden, potatoes and flowers, handicraft, electricity, soil improvement, wildlife conservation.

Grand finale will be a parade of livestock before the grandstand.

Premiums that are paid to each 4-H member are certainly substantial and the 4-H member can ill afford not to show. The Ogle County Farm Bureau and the state government are the only contributors toward the premium money. From just what source does the state get its money for these county 4-H shows may be of interest to you. The state has a tax on all money taken in at the horse racing events. The income that the state receives from this tax goes to the counties for these youth shows.

If you have a swarm of flies around your farmstead, H. B. Petty, entomologist at University of Illinois, states that strict sanitation to eliminate breeding places is the number one fly control measure. The follow up to sanitation is good spraying with the right chemicals. Use either one half pound of methoxychlor or one ounce of lindane for each 1,000 square feet of surface. These chemicals will be effective for two to four weeks before you will need to spray again.

Ends Year in Mt. Morris

Austrian Student Gained New Ideas from America

Expected Gangsters, Cowboys; Saw Happy Democratic People

By MRS. MABEL HOFF
Mt. Morris Correspondent

MT. MORRIS—When the S. S. Independence steams out of New York harbor Aug. 14, on board will be 100 German and Austrian students, returning to their homelands after having spent a year in the homes of America. Each will have finished a chapter in his life called, "America." There will be mingled feelings of sadness and joy, as they look forward to seeing their home folks again and a feeling of sadness as they think of the many new friends they have left behind in America.

One of the 100 will be Friedrich Schroeder. The chapter he has just lived in America will be titled, "Mt. Morris, Ill., U. S. A." Fred has spent the past year in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fridley, Mt. Morris, and attended Mt. Morris high school for his junior year. He has been an outstanding youth and has made an excellent record in the high school here as a student. He speaks English fluently and only recently won the Illinois State F.F.A. speech contest. While he was in our community he made 55 speeches before clubs and organizations in surrounding towns and communities.

Fred was scheduled to leave Mt. Morris today for New Windsor, Md., where the exchange students will meet, and tour Washington, D.C. They also will spend several days in New York before sailing.

Fred's home is at Bad Aussee, Austria, and when he returns to school he will have to go 200 miles from home to Graz, Austria, where he will enter his senior year. He doesn't know how long it will take him to finish high school there, as he will not receive full credit for the work he did while in America.

Fred said when he came to America he had a feeling of revenge towards the Russians because they had killed his father, a prominent Austrian physician in World War II, but since being over here he has learned that the way of peace and good will is the best, and his desire for revenge against his enemies has been replaced by a feeling of love and compassion. He hopes that because of the friends he has made here the youth of America will have more of a friendly feeling toward the youth over there. Since coming to America he feels he not only has made friends, but people here understand better the ones in his home land. Although only 18 years of age, Fred has truly been an ambassador of good will.

Cowboys and Indians
When he came to America he expected to find the kind of people here that he saw in the movies. His impressions of Americans were not good because all he knew about the people was what he had observed from the movies he attended and from the army of occupation. He said he wasn't sure he wanted to come to America when he had a chance. He thought the people here were mostly gangsters, cowboys and Indians and the kind that lived in Hollywood. But all that was changed when he began to get for three years. He will have many acquainted with the real people of America.

He was especially impressed with the democracy in the schools, the youth groups, and activities here. In his home land there are no F.F.A. clubs, no 4-H, and no Boy Scouts. He said he was surprised at a school picnic to see the high school teachers playing games with the students. The games they play in Austria are different also. The main games are: Soccer, (the na-

Special days in Austria include May day, which is their labor day. On this day they have parades, political speeches, and a real holiday. Fred said, using American "language," that this day all the "Big Wheels" get to make speeches on Nationalism. Christmas and Easter have the same meaning as over here, and are celebrated in somewhat the same manner as we.

do. But special days in America are much more commercialized than they are in Austria.

He plans to continue his education and become a doctor like his father. He would like to return to the States to study but it will be impossible for him to come back pleasant memories to take with him of America, and has made good use of the camera and projector that the boys and girls of Mt. Morris high school presented to him at the close of the school year.

The past Sunday evening the Youth Department of the Church of the Brethren gave a farewell party in his honor at the Fridley home and presented him with a photo album containing pictures of each one in the youth group.

Build Better

We would like to have him come back but we know that youths such as he are needed over there, because the attitude of the youth in Europe today will determine the world of tomorrow. As Fred says, "There can't be another war; it is so futile. It is up to the youth to build a better world."

This is the purpose of the exchange student program sponsored and financed by the Brethren Service commission of the Church of the Brethren. Another group of 200 students will be arriving soon and will be placed in the homes and schools of our country.

Mt. Morris Hires Teacher, Custodian

MT. MORRIS — The elementary board of education has hired Jenny Gleckler to teach one of the fifth grade sections. Miss Gleckler has her Master's Degree in elementary education and art.

She has taught at Barry, Ill., for 13 years and has been teaching in Colorado for the past eight years. She has been very active in educational organizations and comes to Mt. Morris very highly recommended as a fifth grade teacher and community worker.

Mr. Fay Peugh, who was the head custodian at the elementary school for the past seven years, resigned his work with the board of education July 1 to start work with the National Turkey Federation in Mt. Morris. The board said Peugh was always respected highly by both the faculty and students, and always took considerable pride in the appearance of the building.

Everett Smith started work as the second custodian in the elementary building to replace Peugh on July 1, 1953. He is well known in the community as a former Mt. Morris business man.

Thomas and Smith have been busy renovating all of the floors in the old addition of the school building, as well as cleaning and waxing the entire building.

Nachusa Notes

NACHUSA—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Landis, missionaries from Chile, were Saturday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson attended a farewell dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Landis, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Landis, Sterling.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Campbell and children, Oswego, Ill., were Friday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strong.

Mrs. Nellie Cook, Rockwood, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huyett were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barron Dixon.

tional sport) and hand ball. Boys and girls over there do not play football and baseball as they do here.

They wear the native costumes to school which consists of shorts and shirts. Family life in Austria is different. All social life is found in the homes, and there are few outside activities there as we have here. Fred has two brothers and three sisters. His mother has full responsibility of caring for the family. Movies are a luxury and are attended by most people only occasionally.

Ice Cream

He said he liked all American food, but wasn't very crazy about baked beans. Ice cream, which is a luxury to the people in Austria, seemed to be his favorite food.

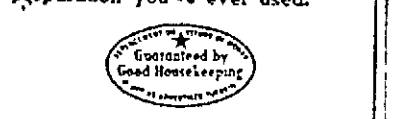

When asked how American and Austrian families differ in their home life? He said the difference is in the standard of living. Most homes do not have telephones, electric refrigerators, freezers, bathrooms, and there isn't a car in every garage with a hot rod for the teenage boy. The main way of transportation for the average boy and girl is walking and bicycling. The farmers there do not have the modern equipment and machinery they do over here.

Holidays

Special days in Austria include May day, which is their labor day. On this day they have parades, political speeches, and a real holiday. Fred said, using American "language," that this day all the "Big Wheels" get to make speeches on Nationalism. Christmas and Easter have the same meaning as over here, and are celebrated in somewhat the same manner as we.

Illinois Will Bid for 1955 Legion Meet

CHICAGO (U) — The Illinois American Legion convention, opening today, will prepare a bid for the 1955 national Legion convention for Chicago.

Committee work on the proposal to invite the national convention was scheduled along with possible convention action on the resolution this afternoon.

The 1953 national convention will be held Aug. 31 to Sept. 3 in St. Louis and the 1954 convention in Washington.

Some 50,000 war veterans and their wives were expected to attend the four-day state convention.

'Roger's in the Water, Mommy.'

DE LONG, Ill. (U) — A 9-year-old farm boy spent half an hour in a well Tuesday before his 2-year-old half-sister remembered to tell their mother, "Roger in water."

The boy, Roger McGee, was rescued unhurt except for rope burns and a wetting.

When the girl, Cynthia Dama, asked him to get her a drink of water, they went to the well. A rotten board gave way and Roger fell 45 feet into 30 feet of water. As he clung to a pipe, he shouted, "Run home and get mother."

Unaware of the boy's danger, Cynthia wandered about the farm before remembering his instructions.

Mrs. Dama called her husband, Frank, from a field and he and a neighbor lowered a rope and hauled Roger to the surface.

Former Soldier Admits Killings While in Japan

OKLAHOMA CITY (U) — Oklahoma County Sheriff Bob Turner said today a former soldier has signed a statement that he killed three persons in Japan while serving there.

Turner said Ralph Donald Mullins, 21, who has been held in the county jail since July 18 on an armed robbery charge, admitted the slayings.

Turner said he was skeptical of the story but Mullins voluntarily made the statement to "clear the murders from his mind." He said he had been having nightmares and seeing the dead men in his sleep.

Turner and two deputies questioned Mullins for three hours and he failed to change his story.

Find Brothers Dead of Thirst In Death Valley

LONE PINE, Calif. (U) — The bodies of two brothers were found Tuesday in Death Valley near Bad Water, lowest point in the nation and one of the hottest.

Sheriff Charles Cline said Charles Henry Ludlow III, 20, and Randall Casey Ludlow, 7, died of the heat or thirst after their car stalled. The two had left their San Diego home Saturday to drive to Death Valley National Monument. Cline said the Ludlow car apparently stopped with a vapor lock. Temperature in the area was 110 Tuesday.

Trial by Ordeal Faces GOP In Filling Robert Taft's Place

In all the accounts of Senator Taft's last days, one small item passed largely unnoticed. It stated that during his stay in the hospital, the senator had had two long conversations with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Until Dewey chooses, if he ever does, to tell what was discussed in those meetings, one can only speculate, naturally. But it is very possible that they had much to do with the future political management of the Republican party.

In the strictest sense, Dewey was no friend of Taft's. The two men were adversaries in the GOP presidential campaigns of 1940 and 1948, and Dewey seemed to magnify this political enmity by throwing himself heavily onto President Eisenhower's side against Taft in 1952. In its last frantic hours, the Taft drive for nomination sounded more anti-Dewey than anti-Eisenhower.

Yet, as everyone has seen again and again, Taft was an eminently practical man. And he was a man supremely devoted to advancing the cause of the Republican party. He knew he was going to die, and he must have realized that his passing would leave the party painfully short on experienced political leadership.

Dewey is totally unlike Taft in temperament, outlook and cast of mind. But, aside from Taft himself, he is unquestionably the most practiced politician in the party. He brings power and authority and an inevitable stature to whatever he does in its ranks. He got himself two presidential nominations, played a key role in Mr. Eisenhower's, and won the governorship of the country's most populous state three times. He is no amateur.

Taft may have turned to Dewey as the one man with the know-how to guide the party through difficult times ahead.

How Dewey could make his undeniable political gifts felt in this dilemma is not clear. It's highly unlikely that he could work himself into the senate picture, since no New York seat is in contest until 1956. Possibly the most practical avenue for him would be a key cabinet appointment.

In such a post, Dewey could serve as a top political adviser to the president, who does not himself have the needed experience, nor any present highly qualified helper. He has relied upon Taft, who not only had the knowledge, but stood in the middle, holding together the sharply divided factions in the GOP.

Dewey would not have an easy time, if it came to that. His second defeat made him highly unpopular among many Republican politicians. His bitterness may not have lessened. But the fact is, Dewey once was acceptable to both wings of his party, and he might be again. His record as governor is proof he knows how to deal with a legislature; he gets things done.

No one can be sure at this juncture whether such thoughts are seriously in the mind of any top Republican, even Dewey or the president. This much is certain: The Republicans have no one on Capitol Hill with the authority and stature they need to keep party peace and get positive action of the sort that will stand them in good stead at the polls.

Their leadership prospects are not bright, unless by some ordeal of fire the president can transform himself into a seasoned political master within the next six months.

Lead Important in Face Cards

By OSWALD JACOBY

It's usually a poor idea to lead an unsupported queen or jack. Such a lead sometimes gives declarer a trick that he could win in no other way, and sometimes sacrifices a trick that you would have won if you had simply held your fire.

From the point of view of theory, therefore, West's opening lead was a poor choice. Actually, a heart opening of some kind represented the only defensive hope. It was vital for East to win temptation, however, fearing that East might be inspired enough to switch to diamonds.

When dummy played a low heart at the first trick, East could not tell that the winning play was to put up the ace of hearts. For all he could tell, South might be void of hearts, in which case the play would surely cost a trick. If South had a singleton small heart, it was vital to hold off in the hope that West could lead diamonds safely from his own side.

Rightly or wrongly, East played a low heart, and now South was home. Since East could not gain the lead, South could easily get in to draw three rounds of trumps, after which his long clubs would enable him to discard diamonds from the dummy. South actually succeeded in winning 11 tricks, which was two tricks more than he could have won if he had played the king of hearts at the first trick.

A—Bid two clubs. With 12 points in high cards opposite a minimum opening bid you cannot insist on a game contract. Your reopening bid, however, shows strength, and your choice of suits shows a little more about the nature of the hand.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Arrogant Husband Defeats Spirit of Working Wife

It's hard to believe a husband can get by with this kind of high-handedness in 1953, but here's the story as the wife tells it:

"When we were first married I thought my husband was being the man of the house by doing all the banking, shopping and errands that were necessary. These weren't any bills then and I thought it was great fun to have no responsibility, other than cooking and doing the housework which I loved.

"A short time later, he was in the service and I did remarkably well on my own, not only with the banking, but I managed to save quite a sum which I banked jointly.

"Upon his return, he withdrew our savings and that included what I had saved from working. Also, since then it has been a one-sided bank account in his name ONLY. I get no allowance for household expenses, or for my personal use. I am not allowed to learn to drive the car, even though the shopping centers are quite some distance away.

"Now there are bills and I can't write checks, and when the bills pile up my husband creates such a fuss reminding me that he knows what he is doing. I can't even look at our savings book. If I ask for

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE
JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—(INEA)—Exclusively Yours: Now that the U. S. S. Caine is sailing Hollywood's celluloid seas with full U. S. Navy cooperation, Producer Stanley Kramer's debunking repeated rumors that naval brass trained their biggest guns on him in an effort to sink filming of the controversial best seller, "The Caine Mutiny," says Kramer:

"The picture is honest—it's the book. We haven't watered the story down in any way. We received everything we asked for from the Navy. All the Navy objections people heard about were eliminated from the very beginning."

"There was concern, but there never were any objections. The U. S. S. Caine is not the U. S. Navy. It's an isolated ship. And I believe our film will be the greatest pro-Navy story of our generation."

Even the most widely rumored Navy "objection," that Captain Queeg should have been a reserve officer instead of an Annapolis man, isn't true, says Kramer. "Humphrey Bogart, as Queeg, is an Annapolis man in our picture. The Navy agreed that even an Annapolis graduate could suffer battle fatigue."

A real-life Annapolis man, Commander James C. Shaw, a Pacific hero, is technical advisor on the film. . . . Commander Shaw graduated from Annapolis in 1935, the same year as the fictional Captain Queeg.

Last year the Annapolis class of '35 had a reunion banquet and Commander Shaw tells it with a broad grin:

"There were two empty seats for which we had place cards reading: 'Captain and Mrs. Queeg.'"

RUSSELL, TEMPERAMENTAL
First time it's happened, but the rumor is all over town that Jane Russell is being Miss Temperamental on the set of "The French Line" at RKO. A reaction to the wording of a new contract offered her by Howard Hughes?

It took three days of give and take and cut, but Hugo Haas finally got the Motion Picture Association's seal of approval on his new picture, "Ball." And the scene showing Cleo Moore's nude shadow in the footage the censors passed.

A master mentalist who came to Hollywood as technical advisor on a movie is still blushing. One day during filming of the picture word reached the set that Eddie Cantor had died of a heart attack. When told the news, the mentalist expressed no surprise, saying:

"Yes, I knew it this morning. Thought waves, you know."

An hour later the report was established as false. The master mentalist suddenly left the set and didn't return for two days.

entirely, he digs 'way down for fifty cents.

"He comes and goes when he pleases. The car is his. The money is his. And he tells me I'm pretty lucky to have such a wonderful husband who does all the shopping. But I feel more and more like a whipped dog. I seem to have lost all confidence in myself."

YEARS OF BAD TREATMENT
Who wouldn't, after a few years of that kind of treatment?

But why have you put up with it so long? Surely if you have worked before, you can get another job, whether your husband approves of your working or not.

After all, if he isn't willing to put his earnings in a joint account or give you an allowance, he certainly has no right to object to your earning some money of your own.

The main thing, however, is to stop feeling like a whipped dog and stand up and fight for your rights. And don't worry too much over what your sudden independent spirit will do to your marriage.

Almost any kind of a change would be an improvement over the way it is now, if you are giving a fair description of it.

The Doctor Says:

Meniere's Disease Usually Strikes After Age of 45

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

"I have a friend," writes Mrs. J. S., "who has what the doctors call Meniere's disease. She has had it for some six or seven years and is deaf in one ear. The other ear has a continual buzzing and ringing in it. She gets dizzy spells and has taken many falls. Would you discuss this, please?"

The symptoms described by Mrs. S. are exactly typical of the common and distressing disease known as Meniere's disease. The seat of the difficulty lies deep in the ear. Its cause is believed to be a drop in the deep portion of the ear called the labyrinth.

This dropical condition, which means accumulation of fluid, does not often develop in young people, but past the age of 45 it becomes increasingly common.

Some patients who drink a lot of fluids find that an attack comes on a few hours afterwards, probably because of the increased accumulation of fluid in the labyrinth. This has given a clue leading to the use of some forms of treatment aimed at cutting down the intake of fluids or removing excess fluids from the body.

Several medical treatments, such as the use of histamine or atropin, have met with some favor and surgery also has been tried with varying degrees of success. For many people with Meniere's disease treatment brings some, but not complete relief.

BODY CONTROLS LISTED
In discussing this common and distressing condition a word might be said about what controls balance in the human body. There are three: the eyes which can observe such things as steps and the position of the feet on them, the sense of position in the legs themselves called the proprioceptive system, and a system of canals in the internal part of the ear.

The proper functioning of all of these parts of the body are necessary to maintain a perfect sense of balance such as is necessary in accurate walking, climbing or running. The eyes and the proprioceptive system are not affected by Meniere's disease.

World's Meanest Gorilla Has a Stomach Ache

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bamboo the Philadelphia zoo's most-publicized primate, is 27 years old today, but his birthday party has been cancelled.

The middle-aged (comparable age of a human being: 54) gray-haired misanthrope's usually nasty disposition has been aggravated by a stomach ache.

Bamboo's normal diet of grain, fruit and vegetables was augmented by some uninvited visitor the other day who tossed an unidentified tidbit into the cage. Today Bambooz is paying for his lack of forethought.

Bamboo arrived at the zoo in 1927 as a scrappy infant. Today he is the "biggest, strongest and probably, meanest gorilla in captivity."

His keeper insists it isn't captivity that's given Bambooz such a distorted outlook toward the human race.

"He just has an unfortunate personality," he said. "You must know plenty of people like him."

Vacation Trip Ends Suddenly

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—The vacation trip of two Peoria 16-year-olds was brief but eventful.

Thomas Snyder and Phil de Arcos loaded their auto with camping equipment Tuesday and started out for Brainerd, Minn. Two blocks away, both boys heard cooking gear clanking in the back seat.

Both turned to see what was happening. The auto knocked over a utility pole.

Snyder was injured. De Arcos was charged by police with inattention.

Westbrook Pegler

(Copyright, 1933), King Features Syndicate, Inc.

On the subject of politico-editorial bias in the Associated Press, let me cite another example.

I refer to a feature story by Clarke Beach, Washington dateline, last Feb. 7. In one paper the head on this story read: "Advisor to Seven Presidents: No Statesman Like Baruch Since Days of Jefferson." The story was ballyhoo, political opinion and myth written by a reporter who had just pertaken of Baruch's luxurious hospitality. Listen:

"You'd have to go back to Thomas Jefferson to find an elder statesman as indestructible as Bernard Baruch. Jefferson, after leaving the White House, was called on by Presidents Madison and Monroe for advice on practically all important matters that came up. He was a power in the government until he died in 1826."

Although "indestructible" is the key-word cleverly inserted here as though to frustrate criticism, I desire an intent to equate Baruch with Jefferson. "Six presidents have asked Bernard Baruch's advice and assistance. Even Lenin and Stalin have sought conferences with him. He disclosed this to me during a recent visit to his quail-hunting lodge, Little Hobcaw at Kingslee, S. C. (Our talks were solely about his history. 'No interviews,' is his rule at this point.)"

So here we are taking Baruch's own word to a guest at his bed and board to the effect that his counsel has been sought by the giants of a tumultuous and fateful time. Did he advise Lenin and Stalin? For the historical record the AP should tell us.

"Early this month, a seventh presidential pal, Dwight D. Eisenhower, showed up at Baruch's home in New York," Beach wrote. "When Baruch's old friend, Winston Churchill, was visiting him, Eisenhower suggested that the proposed meeting between himself and the prime minister be held at 'Bernie's place.'"

We have only an AP assumption that like was the seventh "presidential pal" of Baruch. And the possibility that Churchill had sinister motives for cultivating "Bernie" and like in secret here is absolutely ignored by the AP. The mere facts that "Bernie's" mansion on Fifth Avenue is incomparably more private and comfortable than any hotel in town, and that Baruch has a good cellar, seem not to occur to the AP's Mr. Beach and its editors.

"To realize how remarkable this is," Mr. Beach continues, "you have to remember that Mr. Baruch is 82, a lifelong Democrat and not very rich any more."

Baruch's age is not remarkable, it is just a little unusual and he has babbled himself along with a nurse in attendance for years. The fact that he is a "life-long Democrat" is unimportant even for a man of 82. It is remarkable, indeed ominous, however, that a man elected on the Republican ticket to be president of the United States should go to the home of a life-long Democrat and financier with international interests to consult the British premier on matters vital to our country. But the possibility of any ulterior significance eludes Beach and the AP altogether.

Here also we have the unsupported statement of Mr. Beach and the AP that Baruch is "not very rich any more."

What evidence do they offer? Not a word. Nothing but the opinion of a house-guest of unknown qualifications? That Baruch has divested himself of great wealth with intimations that he gave it away in philanthropy. But what about his family? Rich men at set up trusts for their children and other relatives which enjoy certain privileges. Baruch employed two professional counsellors, one of whom, at least was a spook. The late Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson often frankly admitted that he ghosted speeches and statements for Baruch. Herbard Bayard Swope, a professional "public relations" operator, has said that he advised Baruch but never was "in his fee."

What is a fee? Johnson was at "Bernie's" side for years but whether he advised Baruch or Baruch fed him ideas for his syndicated column, I must guess. I can't fancy Swope paying anyone to counsel him so I draw a conclusion there, too.

Why didn't the AP mention these relationships to give us an honest estimate of the greatest statesman since Jefferson? There are many in the A P who know the facts.

Plum Hollow Women Plan August Events

This week's news from Plum Hollow contains the announcement that Dorothea Plasters is winner of the July handicap tournament. Dorothea and Marj Scheck played in the finals. Gwen Saari and Nita Whitmer are finishing the last round of the consolation flight.

Golf was played Tuesday morning at the club and there was bridge yesterday afternoon. The morning's winners were: low on No. 3, Adeline Myers, high on No. 6, Ginny McCarger and low puts, Gwen Saari. Edna Hamill was high in bridge and Lu Schmidt, second.

A number of Plum Hollow women traveled to Earlville July 29. Alyce Yeast had low net for the field on 18 holes. Other winners from Plum Hollow were: 18 holes, low net, Gwen Saari and low gross, Edith Talmadge. For nine holes Dorothy Rhodes had low net and Mrs. Ed Hoyle, low gross.

August Committee
The August tournament schedule will be posted this week at the club.

Minette Meinke, August chairman, has as her committee, Nita Whitmer, Jean Smith, Dorothy Duffy, Verne Scott and Eleanor Wilson.

Those planning to attend guest day Tuesday, Aug. 11, at Plum Hollow are asked to sign at the club by Friday. Tee off time will be 1 p.m. and there will be a dinner following golf.

DIXONAIRE TO MEET
A regular meeting of the Dixonaire will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the club rooms. There will be entertainment and refreshments.

Today's Hints

When ironing dresses with skirts that drop down to the floor, be sure to have clean newspapers on the floor.

If you arrange your kitchen equipment efficiently, you shouldn't have to do much stooping, much reaching or much walking. Try to place your range, refrigerator and sink so there is not more than six or seven feet between any two of them. Keep dishes, pots, pans and staple foods on shelves to which you have easy access.

If you have a long narrow kitchen, with more wall than floor space, you may find a drop-leaf shelf is a big help.

For ordinary cleaning, oilcloth should be wiped with a damp cloth or washed with mild soap-suds. If it needs scouring, it's best to use a grit-free cleaning powder. If the oilcloth has stains, lemon juice or vinegar may remove them.

Don't chop or cut on plastic or linoleum counter tops if you want to keep them free of scratches. Have a chopping board of close-grained wood on hand for cutting foods.

Wash Daily To Keep Fit

By ALICIA HART

There's an old wives' tale, left over from the days when foundation garments were "corsets" and resembled a knight's armor, to the effect that girdles and all-in-ones are difficult to wash.

Anything is hard to wash if soil is left in it too long. Frequent, even daily, sudings are good for girdles, for they bring the shape back and remove perspiration which destroys fabric and rubber. And these frequent sudings take so much less time than the weekly, violent, scrubbing type of laundering. Certainly they are much less hard on the garments.

Simply prepare rich, warm soap-suds and allow your foundation garment to soak a few minutes. Never allow your girdle to soak until the water has turned cold, because this causes the soil to go right back into the garment.

Use a soft-bristled brush if its necessary to scrub away dark soil from shoulder straps of all-in-ones or waistbands of girdles. For the remainder of the garments, simply dunk and squeeze.

Rinse your foundation garment thoroughly and blot excess moisture in a heavy Turkish towel. Pull seams straight and shape brasserie cups of all-in-ones. Don't hang them to dry by the garters but lay them over a smooth rod or clip them with clothespins. If you must iron, use low heat and press only the fabric.

Party Honors Christening Of Zenon Joseph Bidzinski

Mr. and Mrs. Zenon S. Bidzinski, 721 Institute Blvd., held open house Sunday, Aug. 2, in honor of the christening of their son, Zenon Joseph. The baby was christened by Rev. T. S. Green of St. Patrick's parish. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Palewski, Chicago, sister and brother-in-law of Mr. Bidzinski.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bidzinski, Chicago, are Zenon Joseph's paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cerniglia, Rockford, his maternal grandparents.

The theme for the christening party in both food and drink was carried out in the Italian Polish fashion.

Mrs. Frank Edwards, Hazelwood road, Dixon, poured the coffee and L. B. Hofer presided at the refreshment bar.

Doc Dalldorf and his assistant of Sterling furnished the music.

Nearly 200 guests were present from Dixon, Franklin Grove, Polo, Grand Detour, Chicago, Rockford, and Des Plaines, Ill. and Wilber, Neb.

The guests were very favorably impressed by that famous Italian dish "Pizza" made by the maternal grandmother, Mrs. S. Cerniglia of Rockford.

If you keep "company china" stacked under a plastic cover, there'll be no need to wash off accumulated dust before using.

If you have too little wall space for your furniture, try bringing it out into the room and grouping it for conversation.

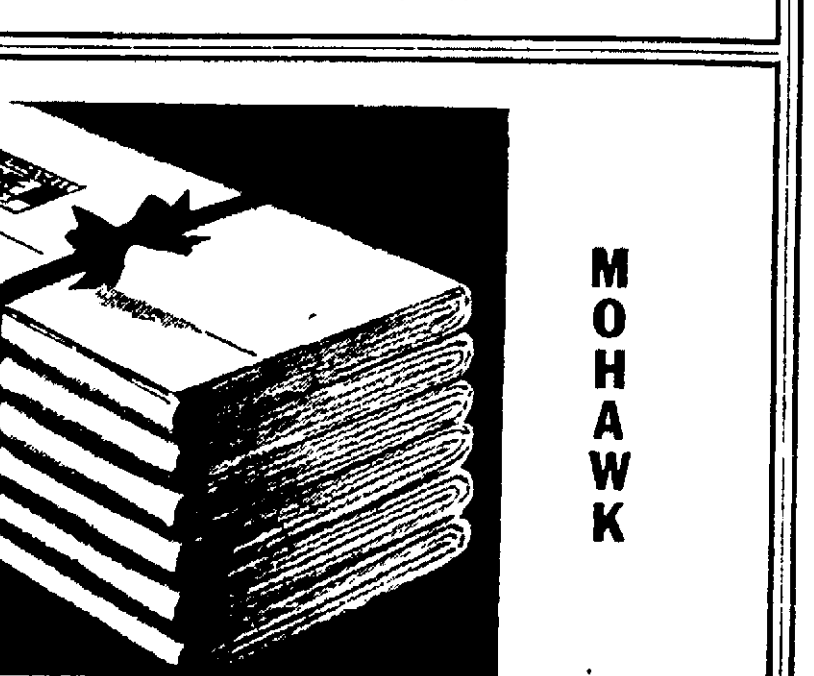

To remove mustard stain from fabrics, rub in glycerine and follow with a soap-and-water wash.

When buying flat silver, make sure the pieces feel balanced when held in your fingers. Otherwise, they'll be awkward to eat with.

See Need for More Room To Handle Celebration

Injun Summer Days Event Larger Than Anticipated

Members of the 4-H club fair and Injun Summer days executive committee wondered today whether the presently assigned area at the Dixon high school will be enough to accommodate the extravaganza scheduled for Aug. 24, 25 and 26.

A report today indicated the number of organizations applying for concession stand room may make it necessary to expand operations.

It was suggested that Front street be employed to handle the rapidly increasing number of concession applicants. According to Keith Barger, chairman of the celebration, approximately 31 applicants

Fain's Brawl Will Cost Him 3 Days' Pay

Sox 1st Baseman Out of Action for At Least 5 Days

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ferris Fain's case fight Sunday night to-day cost the Chicago White Sox first baseman three days pay in a ruling by Manager Paul Richards.

The fine, based on Fain's reported yearly salary of around $30,000, would amount to about $200 a day. It was based on Fain's inability to play in one game at Washington and the first two games of the series with the Athletics here.

Fain suffered a cut forehead, a skinned cheek and a bruised left hand, to be X-rayed today, in his tavern skirmish at Colmar Manor, Md., which brought a $30,000 damage suit against the American League batting champion.

Ready Friday
"I'll be ready to play against the Yankees Friday," Fain said, but Richards thinks he may be out longer. Fain has 20 days to file an answer to the suit, but a summons cannot be served on him except in the District of Columbia.

Meanwhile a rumor that Fain also was involved in the club-house mishap, Sunday that injured second baseman Nelson Fox was described as "ridiculous" by Fox.

Hint Dissention
The Chicago American Tuesday hinted dissension in the Sox ranks and some lockers at Washington's Griffith Stadium tumbled on Fox in a melee involving Fain.

Fox said the lockers fell when he lost his balance reaching for some toothpaste.

There were rumblings earlier reported among the Sox because manager Richards persisted on using Saul Rogovin despite his continued pitching failure. But last week, Rogovin was placed on the disabled list because of an elbow said to be ailing.

Hogan Refuses Ryder Cup Bid; 10 Men Named

CHICAGO (AP) — Only four hold-over golfers from the previous squad have been named to the Ryder Cup team which will represent the United States against Great Britain in the 1953 matches at Wentworth, Eng., Oct. 2-3.

The 10-man U. S. team named Tuesday by the Professional Golfers Association of America includes:

• Jim Turnesa and Walter Burkeno, automatically selected as winners of the 1952 and 1953 PGA championships; Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, Dave Douglas, Jack Burke Jr., Ed (Porky) Oliver, Cary Middlecoff, Fred Haas Jr., and Ted Kroll.

Ben Hogan, who grabbed the British and U. S. Opens in 1953, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, ranked eighth and ninth respectively in Ryder Cup competition for the year, were eligible for the squad, but declined the bid to make the trip.

Only Snead and Mangrum were on the U. S. squad which last met England in 1949, and Snead, Burke, Oliver and Mangrum were the only holdovers from the last Ryder Cup unit which competed at Pinehurst, N. C. in 1951.

Cancel Gavilan Giardello Bout

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 10-round non-title match between welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and local middleweight Joey Giardello, scheduled for Aug. 10 in Connie Mack Stadium, has been cancelled.

Promoter Herman Taylor announced the cancellation Tuesday night after Gavilan's manager, Angel Lopez, refused to consider another postponement. Giardello said Monday that he had hurt his elbow in training and asked that the over-the-weight fight be put off until the following week.

Earlier, Giardello got a week's delay when he insisted a cut on his left cheekbone, suffered in defeating Ernie Durando, hadn't entirely healed.

Predicts 200 Ft. Discus Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fortune Gordien, holder of the world's record in the discus throw now says somebody will stretch the record to more than 200 feet within a year.

"I wouldn't have thought that until I had 190 feet," the former University of Minnesota athlete said, "but now I can easily see 10 more feet."

Gordien's official record, set four years ago, is 186 feet 11 inches. His new mark up for approval this year is 190 7/8.

Thursday's Games
Second Baptist vs. Bethel.
Grace vs. Presbyterian.

St. Paul's, in first place for the first time this season, gets little rest as tonight they return to the Church league softball wars, meeting Bethel at 8 p.m.

Last night, Glen Ransom gave up two hits as St. Paul's handed defending champion St. Patrick a 13-2 setback. The lone consolation for St. Patrick, which now must hope someone else can knock off St. Paul's, is that they scored the first run off Ransom. In five previous games, Ransom had not allowed a single tally.

In the third inning last night, however, Ransom weakened a trifle, giving up both St. Patrick runs.

St. Paul's opened the scoring with a single run in the first inning. After St. Patrick had gone into a 2-1 lead in the top of the third, St. Paul's bounced back to score seven runs in the bottom half of the third. They added five more runs in the fifth.

In the first game, Methodist, which lost its first two games of the season, came on to win its fifth straight and go into a tie for third place as they blasted Amboy, 17-1.

Playing air-tight ball in which they pulled off two double plays to nip Amboy rallies, Methodist rapped out 14 hits on their own as they sewed up the contest early.

Methodist scored two in the first, four in the second, five in the third and six in the fourth. Amboy's run came in the fifth. It was the second loss for Amboy which now shares third place with Methodist.

In a preliminary to tonight's game between St. Paul's and Bethel, the Grace girls will play the Amboys at 7:30 p.m.

Second Round Illiniwek Play Opens Today

FREEDPORT, Ill. (AP) — Sixty three women golfers opened the second day's play today in the 3-day medal play Illiniwek tournament sponsored by the Illinois Women's Golf Association over the Freedport Country club course.

Miss Ruth More, of Pekin, three times state champion, won medalist honors for the first day's shooting Tuesday with 40-37-77, two over women's par. Mrs. Alex Welsh of Rockford was runnerup with 38-41-79.

In the junior division, Judy Reinert of Chicago's Olympia Fields was low with 42-40-82, followed by Miss Lois Drake, of La Grange, defending junior and state and women's champion, who posted 45-41-86.

Several Changes In City Tourney

Several changes were made in the standings of the City Golf tournament sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce yesterday at Plum Hollow.

In Flight A, Don Sweet posted a 78 to go into a three way tie for the lead with Red Ellis and Harold Green. Lewis Moore who shot an 87, failed to qualify for the top six.

In flight B, all three golfers made the top six for the present. Rich Arnold took over first place with a 79. Mays Calder with an 81 went into a tie for third place while Allen Bohmloff took fifth place with an 85.

Bill Underwood now is second in flight C with an 84 and George Muntan with an 89 is tied for third.

Flight D has two changes. William Harney is tied for the lead with an 87 while Mel Sweeney's 93 gives him a tie for fourth.

Only two days of qualifying remain, today and tomorrow. In case of ties for sixth place, playoffs will be held Saturday to determine the sixth man for the final round on Sunday. Playoffs will be 18 hole medal play.

Yesterday's scores:

Aragon Meets Davis Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Art Aragon and Henry Davis, Los Angeles welterweights, meet tonight in a scheduled 10-round fight in the Cow Palace.

Aragon thinks he is the lad who will dump Kid Gavilan from the welter throne. Seven wins in eight bouts since he moved into the 117-pound division have earned him the position of No. 7 contender.

Most of Aragon's 73 matches were fought in the lightweight class. His 37 knockouts, 14 of them in the first round, indicate his punching power.

A nationwide (CBS) television audience will see the match starting at 9 p.m. CDT.

Davis, making his first start as a welterweight, will concede a few pounds. He is expected to weigh close to 139 with Aragon above 143.

N. L. Managers Warned About Beanballing

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Managers Charlie Grimm of the Milwaukee Braves and Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers were warned Tuesday by National League President Warren Giles that umpires in the current series will order removal of any pitcher they think is throwing beanballs.

Giles' special directive, was issued after a near-fight in Monday night's game.

Braves and Dodgers surged out of the dugouts Monday night as Milwaukee pitcher Lew Burdette and Dodger catcher Roy Campanella square off after Burdette fanned Campanella. The husky Negro backstop had had to hit the dirt twice to avoid pitched balls, and he said Burdette insulted his race. Burdette denied and said Campanella did the name calling.

Slagg Honored

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Amos Alonzo Stagg, the grand old man of football, was honored at a pre-birthday luncheon by the Lions Club Tuesday. He will be 91 on Aug. 16.

Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf of California praised Stagg as an "outstanding American, whom every one connected with football can revere and look up to."

Boxer Who Lost to Marciano, LaStarza Should Know Answer

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP) — Bill Wilson, a journeyman heavyweight from Charlotte, N. C., hasn't cut any swath through the division since he started fighting a decade ago but he's probably the only man alive who had been knocked out by both Rocky Marciano and Roland LaStarza.

Hete, then, is a fellow who should know whereof he speaks when comparing the merits of the pair. He also was knocked out by Hen Ten Hoff, the ex-heavyweight champion of Europe, Tuesday night.

Marciano starched him in December 1950, and LaStarza, who fights Rocky for the heavyweight title on Sept. 24, sent him to the canvas in February 1952. Marciano's job was a one-rounder, LaStarza's a four-rounder.

"You should remember that Marciano never did floor me," he said in his dressing room Tuesday night after Ten Hoff polished him off in 2:35 of a scheduled 10.

Could Be 1st Since Dean To Win 30

Chisox, Yankees, Indians, Red Sox Win in American

By The Associated Press
Robin Roberts is running on a schedule that could make the young Philadelphia pitcher the major leagues' first 30-game winner in 19 seasons.

The strong-armed right-hander, who won 28 and lost 7 last year, won his 18th game Tuesday night, a fivehit 8-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. He's lost seven.

At this same point a year ago he had a 16-6 record.

The last 30-game winner was Dizzy Dean back in 1931.

Back-to-back doubles by Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter produced a St. Louis run in the first inning, but from then on it was all Roberts. He struck out seven and walked two.

Braves Idle
By winning, the Phils pulled a game and a half ahead of the fourth-place Cardinals.

Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 2-1 and Chicago posted another defeat on the stumbling New York Giants 5-3. League-leading Brooklyn was idled by rain in Milwaukee.

In the American League the "haves" beat the "have nots" in four battles between first and second division teams.

The New York Yankees crushed Detroit 15-0. Chicago whipped Philadelphia 8-3. Cleveland defeated Washington 3-0, and Boston broke an eight-game losing streak, beating St. Louis 6-2.

Raschi Sets Record
The Yankees lead Chicago by five games and Cleveland by 7 1/2. Vic Raschi broke a major league batting record for pitchers when he drove in seven of New York runs. With the bases loaded on each of his first three trips to the plate, Raschi delivered two runners in the second inning with a single, three in the third with a double and two more in the fourth with another single.

Chuck Stobbs of the Senators held Cleveland to five hits but the Indians managed to bunch three of these in the eighth inning to score all of their runs. Mike Garcia posted victory No. 13. He, too, gave up five safes.

Trucks Gets 9th
The Chicago White Sox, who had succumbed to the A's 10 times in 15 meetings, exploded for six runs in the fourth inning. Virgil Trucks won his ninth game since joining Chicago with a four-hit performance.

Boston came from behind in the eighth to trim the Browns. Floyd Baker, who once played for St. Louis, doubled with the bases loaded during the rally that gave Maury McDermott his 11th victory.

The Pirates' victory at Cincinnati ended a four-game winning streak for the Redlegs. Danny O'Connell tripled home the two Pittsburgh runs in the eighth.

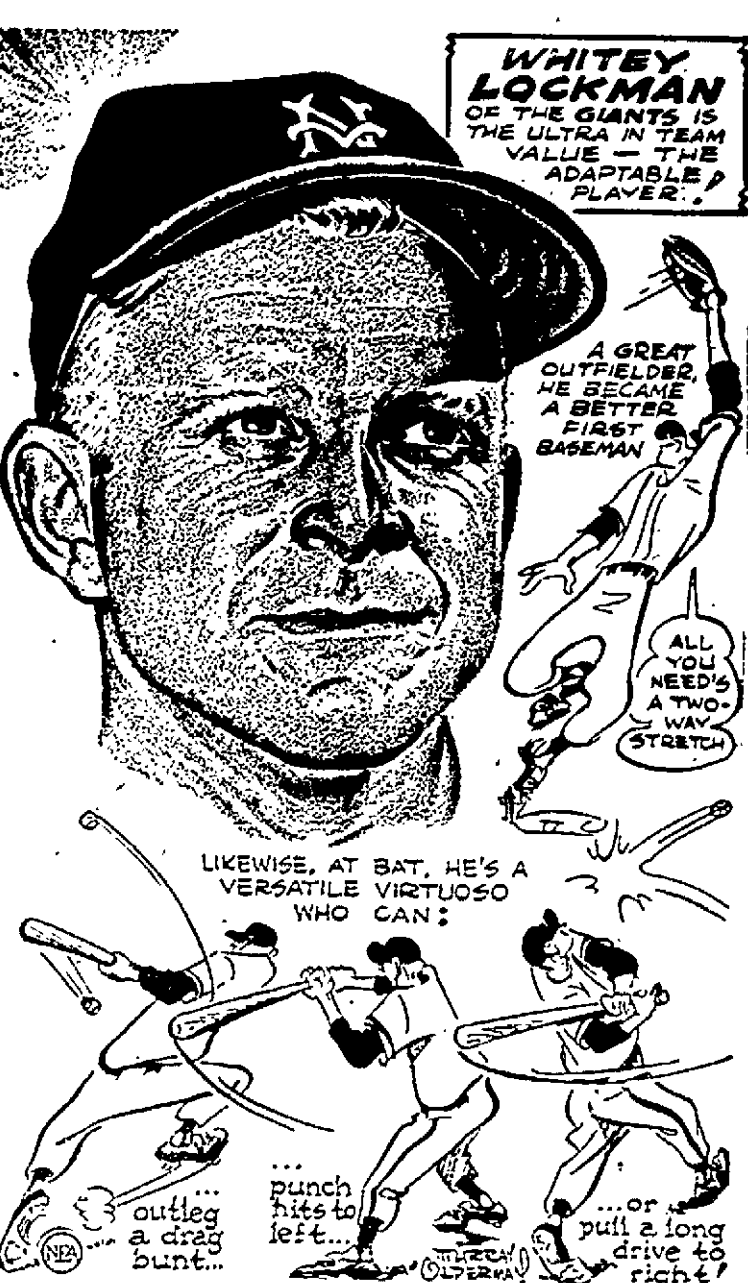

Clyde McCullough hit a home run for the Cubs and Monte Irvin hit one for the Giants. Sal Maglie drew the New York loss, seventh in nine games for the Giants on the current Western road trip.

Tough Odds

ELMSFORD, N. Y. (AP) — The odds against a golfer getting a hole in one are 8,103 to 1, the New York World Telegram and Sun decided today.

The newspaper has been conducting an annual hole in one tournament for 20 years, and only 10 aces have been made. A total of 16,205 players have hit 81,205 shots.

The 10th ace was made Tuesday by James B. Lowrey, a New York advertising man.

What's Th' Score

THERE HAS BEEN MUCH DISCUSSION about the Junior Chamber of Commerce City Golf tournament which is currently going on at the Plum Hollow Country club.

The general opinion is that all is not on the up and up among the players, though no accusations are being leveled at individuals.

"SANDBAGGING" is the term most often being used. It refers to players who deliberately play or turn in a poor score during the first round in order to get into a lower flight and then turn in scores which appear to be incongruous with the first round on the second round. This is pointed out as being especially true in the lower flights.

Another eyebrow raiser is the variance of some of the scores which show a vast difference between the first nine and the second nine.

ALL OF THIS HAS PROMPTED JAYCEE OFFICIALS to begin studying a more protective method of keeping the tournament more on the up and up.

AMONG THE SOLUTIONS SOUNDED are keeping the scores secret until the final day of each round and making the first two rounds accumulative. If scores are kept secret, they will neither be posted in the clubhouse nor in the paper.

We might suggest here that in order to keep the flights more in line with the golfer, that golfers be assigned to flights before the tourney starts by taking the average scores for each golfer during the year.

FOR THOSE GOLFERS WHO PLAY only during the city tournament and or a few other times, their score from the previous year could be taken. If they did not play the previous year, use their own predicted handicap.

With each golfer already in a flight and then playing a 36-hole qualifying round for the top six final, every golfer would have to play at his best at all times.

THIS WOULD NOT ELIMINATE the possibility of inaccuracies in individual scoring, but that is hard to do anyway.

Softball games in the Polo league were rained out yesterday. They will be rescheduled at a later date.

Saturday at 8 p. m. managers of the Church Softball league are requested to attend the league meeting at the Loveland building to decide if a play-off is to be held for the league at the close of the season.

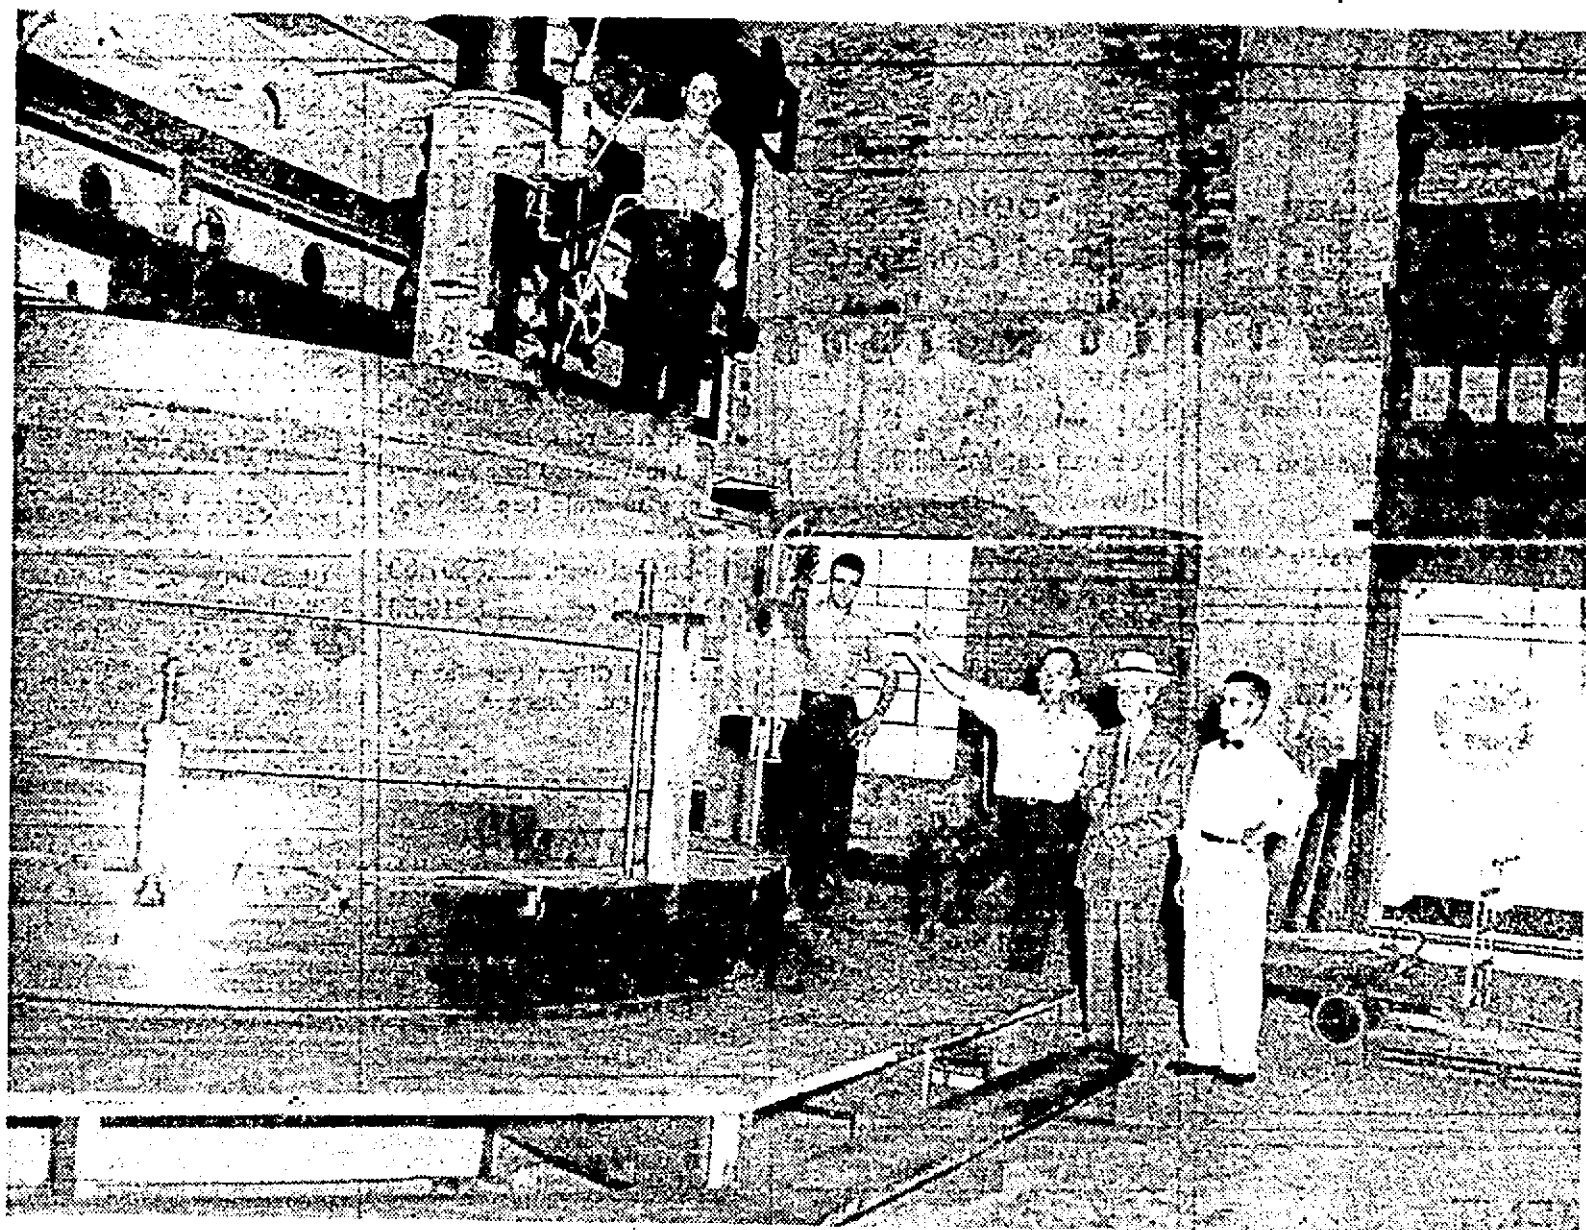

MOATS TRUCKING CONTINUED to come out on the winning side of the ledger last night as they defeated Ohio behind the five hit pitching of Bob Fieskes. Jack Munson led Moats with a triple and single. The winners score four runs in the first of the sixth to put the game on ice. We'd suggest that next time Moats turns in a story on their games, they include the score.

Thursday night, Moats goes against Central Stamping in a Polo league game. Eddie Poore is slated to pitch for the league leading Moats team.

'Old-Timer' Harry Darling Sees Sights, Some Old, Some New

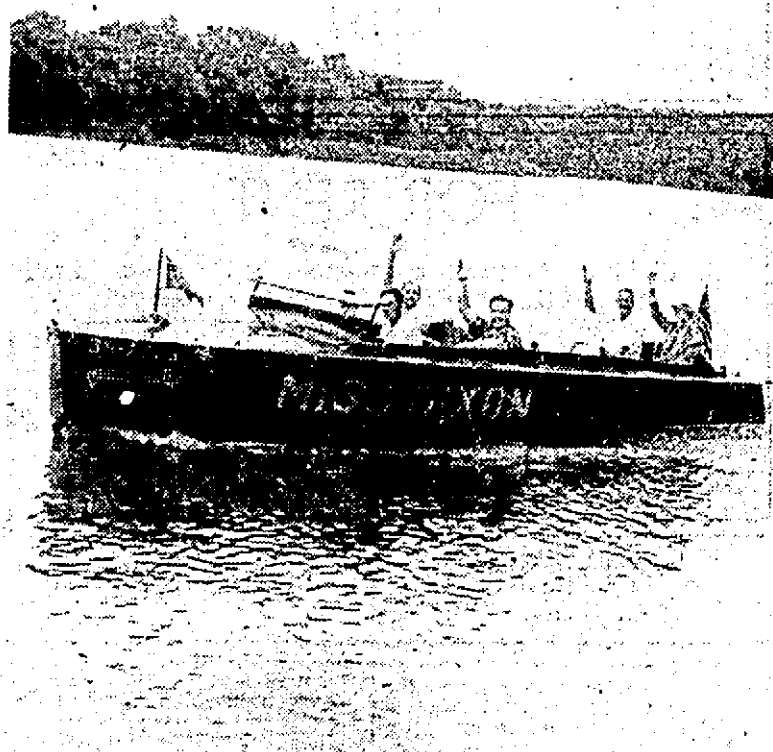

ONE OF THE HIGHLIGHTS of Harry Darling's visit to Dixon yesterday, was the trip to the Henry Pratt Co., on Dixon's West Side. Here he was shown operations on a huge valve being bored for a wind tunnel at Langley Field, Langley, Va. The valve, 12 feet in diameter, may be the largest such valve in the world. The operation is accomplished by a 16-foot Betts boring mill, the only one in use in this area. The Henry Pratt Co. manufactures valves and other equipment for some of the largest firms in the United States. Standing on the boring mill (above) is Sammy Haek. Below him is Melvin Small, another machine operator. Gen. Supt. Elmer Berger is pointing out the features of the machine to Darling. At the right is Harry Coakley, machine shop superintendent.

THE "DARLING DAY" entourage is shown halted at a spot overlooking the Rock River valley at Lowell Park. This natural beauty spot provided one of the high spots in yesterday's visit by Harry Darling, 56-year-old Chicagoan, who was a guest of the Dixon Lions Tuesday.

Dixon Evening Telegraph Photos

A TRIP TO LOWELL PARK—The "Darling Day" group is shown, above, leaving Lowell Park, Dixon's fine recreation area, after a visit to the city-maintained nature spot. Darling expressed amazement at the beauty and restful atmosphere to be found in the heavily forested area.

BACK TO THE SCENES OF HIS BOYHOOD—Harry Darling, left, visits the Sid Buckaloo farm west of Dixon. This was the same farm, known as the Rock River Stock Farm, where Darling's father, William, worked as superintendent in the 1890s. Sid Buckaloo is shown with Darling. Darling was shown the same stalls which housed his father's horses but which have now been converted to grain bins. The Rock River Stock Farm, operated by Chicago interests, trained more than 50 race horses. It occupied a wide expanse along the river and had a race track for training purposes. Buckaloo says the track was plowed in 1921 when his father purchased a portion of the farm.

BOAT TRIP ON THE ROCK RIVER—Walter Knack, Dixon Lions club member, left, is shown with Harry Darling during a speedy boat trip on the river yesterday. Frank Villiger was the host on the river spin, using his fine craft, "Miss Dixon."

Executioner At Sing Sing Quits Switch
OSSINING, N. Y. (AP)—Joseph P. Francell, 57, who pulled the electric chair switch on atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg last June 19, has resigned as Sing Sing prison executioner.
Prison attendants say reported threats against his life and dissatisfaction with the standard fee of $150 per execution led him to quit.
Francell, whose resignation was announced Tuesday, has executed 137 persons in his 14 years at Sing Sing. He also has carried out about 100 electrocutions in New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Like 10 Pins
CHICAGO (AP)—The autos banged together like 10 pins.
It started when a moving Milwaukee road freight car Tuesday snagged an auto being driven beside the tracks by Harley Stevens, 24.
Stevens' car, dragged along by the train, crashed into the first of a line of cars parked near the rail line. The first car banged the next and so on down the line until 10 cars were banged up. Police estimated the damage at $3,000.

WHAT IS NYLON?
It is a synthetic or man-made fibre . . . solid, compact and light, yet much stronger than other fibres used in tire cord. Nylon is made from coal, air and water.

Now folks, you know as much as we do about nylon Goodyear Tires . . . so if you are interested in a tire deal . . . stop in and see one of the two Kerz Brothers for a real smart tire deal!
See if you think this is funny . . . I was playing golf with Joe and he lost his ball in the rough. When I asked him if it was a new one he said, "I never keep them that long."
Stop in at Kerz Brothers and You Will Laugh, too.

Soviet Union Spurns U. S. B-50 Protest
LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today the Soviet Union has spurned a United States protest against the shooting down of an American bomber off Siberia July 29.
The broadcast quoted a Russian note as saying the Moscow government had no knowledge of the 16 men missing aboard the U. S. plane.
The big B-50 bomber was forced into the sea. Only one of the 17 crewmen was rescued by an American naval vessel but the United States has said it had information that others may have been picked up by Russian craft.
The Moscow broadcast quoted the Soviet note as declaring the American protest "completely groundless." It had been filed by Washington officials after an earlier Russian charge that the U. S. bomber had flown over Soviet territory and opened fire on Russian jet fighters.
The United States denied the charge and claimed that the Russian MIG jets had attacked the bomber 10 miles out over the Sea of Japan.
The new Soviet note declared the Russian government "has in its possession no information whatever about the U. S. aircraft, which withdrew in the direction of the sea, or about its crew."
